PLAN CEREMONY ON BORDER LINE

President And Mrs. Roosevelt To Meet King And Queen At U. S. Border

(International News Service)

LONDON, Nov. 12.—A monument, symbolizing the friendship of many years' standing between Great Britain and the United States, will be dedicated jointly by King George VI and President Roosevelt when they meet next year, according to plans revealed here today.

As arrangements shape up for the coming visit of the King and Queen to America during their trip to Canada, it was learned that President and Mrs. Roosevelt are to meet the royal visitors at the Canadian frontier and accompany them to Washington.

Probably On May 29

The meeting probably will be on May 29. Both couples will travel by special train. At the border, King George and President Roosevelt will unveil a plaque of a monument which, it is understood, will read:

"This memorial was unveiled by King George the Sixth and President Roosevelt of the United States, marking the unguarded frontier between Canada and the United States and symbolizing the friendly relations between the English-speaking peoples."

Following the ceremony, the King and Queen will board the special

It seems that our old friend, the buffalo nickel, is destined to go out of circulation, at least no more are to be coined. Replacing it will be a nickel with the profile of Thomas Jefferson on one side and his home at Monticello on the other. The buffalo nickel has been in circulation for 25 years. The big bull on one side recalled the vast herds of buffalo which once roamed our plains, and the Indian head on the other, the now scattered remnants of a once powerful race. And the buffalo also recalls that pioneer scout, Buffalo Bill, whose remains are now enshrined on a bleak summit of the Rocky mountains.

Just to keep you in a good humor and increase your hopefulness, Pa Newc brings you another prediction as to the nature of the coming winter. It comes from the Complanter Indians, who have a reservation up near Warren, Pa. They say that dogs are still shedding their hair, a sure sign of a mild winter.

Pa Newc is pleased to note that he has not heard any complaints from farmers so far during the present hunting season. In former years complaints were made of hunters shooting chickens and livestock.

Doe Jumps Over Hood Of Machine

Local Men Returning From Homestead Friday Have Unusual Experience

Lawrence Montgomery, West Washington street, and Edwin Carey 25 Atlantic avenue, returned to their homes Friday with a strange story to tell.

While returning from Homestead Friday, and just before they reached Portersville, a doe jumped completely over the hood of their automobile and then darted, unhurt, away into the woods on the other side of the road.

According to the young men, the deer came down a hillside on one side of the highway and frightened them when it dove up over their machine.

Republicans To Seek To Secure Probe Of W.P.A.

Investigation Of Political Presure To Be Asked In New Congress

WANT RELIEF MONEY TO GO TO NEEDY

Hopkins May Be Shorn Of Some Of Authority If Probe Goes Through

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The Republicans, in their first big drive of the 76th congress, will seek to enlist dissident Democrats and then force a comprehensive investigation of the Works Progress Administration and dethronement of WPA Administrator Harry L. Hopkins.

Rep. Joseph W. Martin of Massachusetts, chairman of the Republican congressional campaign committee and slated for the post of Republican house leader, will personally lead the battle.

To Call For Probe.

When the 76th congress assembles on January 3, Martin himself will toss in the hopper a resolution calling for investigation of WPA. The resolution may be reported to the floor through a bi-partisan combination on the powerful rules committee.

Republicans will demand a hearing for the Townsend old-age pension plan, as well as all others, Martin said. But he does not know whether a majority of Republicans favor it.

"I have enough evidence myself of coercion and racketeering in the WPA to justify investigation," asserted Martin. "I believe that the house will vote for an investigation on a non-partisan basis.

"People are aroused by political use of the WPA. In my own district, where I have been a candidate 11 times, I carried a Democratic ward for the first time. Political use of the WPA was so raw that it

Forecasts New Trade Treaty With Canada

(International News Service)

OTTAWA, Ont., Nov. 12.—Prime Minister MacKenzie king of Canada was on record today with a statement that a new Canadian-American trade agreement, "broader and more comprehensive" than the 1935 pact, will soon be announced.

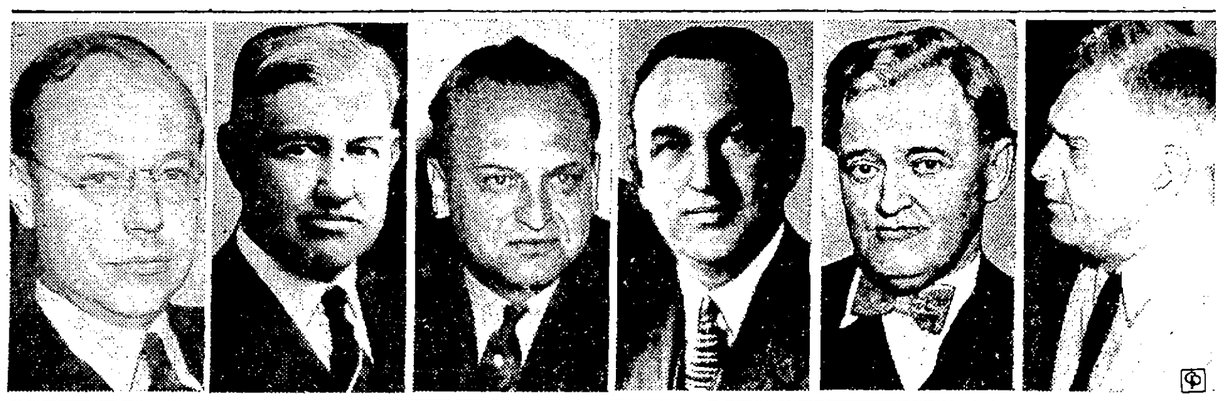

"It will be recalled," said the prime minister "that on November 11, 1935, I was able to announce that a trade agreement between the United States and Canada had been negotiated the terms of which would be made public in due course. This agreement was for three years and to be continued thereafter subject to six months notice on the part of either country of a desire to terminate its provisions.

"On this third anniversary I am happy to be able to state that an early announcement may be expected that an agreement on broader and more comprehensive lines than that announced on this day three years ago has been reached in our further trade negotiations with the United States."

Await Decision On Deer Season

Expect Court Decree On Antlerless Deer Hunting Season Next Week

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 12. — The fate of Pennsylvania's proposed open season on antlerless deer rested today with Judge Henry C. Niles who heard arguments on the contested issue here and retired to his home in York county to prepare a decision.

His ruling on the season, planned by the State Game Commission to extend from Nov. 28 to Dec. 3, was expected to be handed down early next week, probably Tuesday or Wednesday.

John H. Fertig, counsel for the game commission, introduced a new argument into his plea for dismissal of a suit of taxpayers of York, Adams and Franklin counties when he contended the state has as much authority over wild life as over forests, and that its rulings cannot be questioned. Sterling G. McNees, counsel for the complainants, held that the commission ruling was unwarranted, arbitrary, and oppressive.

New Protest Made To Japan

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The American government has lodged new protests with Japan over stoppage of river traffic on the Yangtze—protests which thus far have been ignored by Japan—it was learned today.

Official action was taken both by Ambassador Joseph C. McGrew at Tokio and by American authorities at Hankow. The representations were made in connection with Japan's occupation of Hankow.

Secretary of State Hull said, in response to questions at his press conference, that Japan has not yet indicated its attitude on the representations, nor has it given any definite indication as to when it intends replying to the sharp protest of October 6 in which this government accused Japan of attempting to shut the "open door" into China and demanded a cessation of discriminatory acts against American rights.

Dr. Dafoe Gives Personal Account Of Recent Tonsil Operations On Quintuplets

By ALLAN ROY DAFOE, M. D.
(Copyright, 1938, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

CALLANDER, Ont., Nov. 12—I think I must be the most relieved man in the country right now. The quintuplets' tonsils and adenoids have been removed.

They all came through the operation well, the condition of the tonsils as they came out showed beyond a doubt that their removal was absolutely necessary to the health of the children.

It was a most efficient operation and I cannot praise too highly the work of Dr. Staunton Wishart of the Toronto hospital for sick children who performed it.

This decision to take out the Quints tonsils, and adenoids isn't a new idea. We've been considering it and observing the babies for the past year and a half with that in mind. We knew their tonsils were not as sound as they might be, but on the other hand we didn't want to operate unless it was necessary.

Last August the children took ill, they were very ill, they had a streptococcus infection of the threat, all of them. In fact Emilie was so ill that we were worried whether she would live.

That was the deciding factor. After that I became convinced that those tonsils had to come out if the Quintuplets were going to get a fair chance for life and health.

That was when I again called in Dr. Alan Brown to see what he

Pennsy E. And A. Veterans Gather Here In Reunion

For the eighteenth consecutive year, the veterans of the Erie and Ashtabula Division, Pennsylvania Railroad, held their reunion banquet today in the Castleton Hotel, and for the eighteenth consecutive time, the men who attended had a time they won't forget until they get their last clearance.

Some of the veterans were new to the banquet this year, having just qualified in the past few months. Others were present when the first one was held, but a lot of faces that were seen at the first banquet were missing today.

Turkey Dinner

The dinner was turkey. It always is and it never tasted better than today. Before sitting down the gang sang "America" led by R. E. Johns and very shortly after 12:30 the railroaders were away on the turkey special. While they were eating, the Marimba Rhythm Band livened things up for the crowd.

The "veterans of the veterans" the men who are on the honor roll were honor guests today as they always are. The banquet is their one

AIRCRAFT AID IN CAPTURE OF YOCHOW

(International News Service)

SHANGHAI, Nov. 2.—Japanese land and air forces battered at weakening Chinese resistance today as the invading army moved nearer to its Changsha objective.

The Japanese troops have been advancing along the Hankow-Canton railway, according to a field dispatch, capturing Yochow in a battle in which aircraft cooperated with the land forces.

Key Point

Yochow, 90 miles north of Changsha, is described as a key point in the Chinese defense.

At Chunking, Chinese officials admitted Japanese occupation of the Yungscheng-Changsha front, although the Chinese troops are grimly resisting the enemy in the surrounding area. A thousand casualties were reported.

Chinese planes raided Liuyang, east of Changsha Thursday, Chinese officials said.

DR. DAFOE GIVES ACCOUNT OF RECENT TONSIL OPERATIONS

thought. He is physician in chief for the hospital for sick children in Toronto and one of the best known, and most trusted child specialists.

He has been our consultant for two years and knew the situation. He agreed with me that the only thing to do was operate. But the children were not well. We had to wait until they were in the best of health before we took the tonsils out.

Last Sunday, Dr. Brown came up from Toronto again; we examined those throats and decided that now was the time. They were in better health than we could have hoped for with such tonsils, so we decided to go ahead at once.

Dr. Brown put all the resources of the hospital of which he is head at our disposal. He sent Dr. John McCreary up a day ahead to tpye the children's blood in case a blood transfusion became necessary; then he sent his best throat surgeon, Dr. Wishart; his best anesthesist, Dr C. H. Robson.

The result was that with 49 minutes of actual operating time all ten tonsils and adenoids were out. And it was done so smoothly and efficiently that the children didnt' know until it was all over what had happened to them.

Each had a general anesthetic, ethyl chloride and ether administered so expertly that they thought it was a game they were playing. We operated on Marie first, poor little Marie who always takes things harder than the others, and her tonsils were the worst. She went on the table at 9:10. By 12:20 Cecile, the last to go under the knife, was back in the bedroom recovering from the ether.

Royalty or millions in money couldn't have commanded any better attention than these children got. I examined their throats while the surgeon was operating. He removed every vestage of tonsils and adenoids. It was a clean and as efficient an operation as I have seen. Yet, I was told that any child of the slums who is brought into that Toronto hospital receives the same attention.

The details of the story are simple, yet the drama of that tonsilectomy is such that I cannot describe it.

At seven-thirty the children were given corn syrup and water, not only to keep them from getting hungry, but to check any acidosis. The nurses talked and played with them, gave each some nerve sedative and did it all so efficiently that the children awaiting their turn were not at all concerned when their sisters went out and did not come back. If one asked where Marie or Annette had gone she was told that she had gone on one of those special calls children get first thing in the thornning.

direct link with the railroad every year and perhaps they enjoy the day even more than the ordinary veteran.

R. B. Lally of Niles, O., was the master of ceremonies today and did a neat job of it. He introduced the speaker of the day, Judge Clifford M. Woodside of Youngstown, O. Judge Woodside delivered an address peculiarly fitting to a railroad crowd. His relations with railroad men are such that he knows them and therefore is in a better position to speak to them.

Compares Old And New

He compared the old days of the link and pin to the modern days of streamlining and air conditioning and paid tribute to the pioneer link and pin veterans who risked their lives every time they took a train out.

There was enough humor in Judge Woodside's address to keep it from getting heavy and enough sound material in it to make it interesting. Altogether it was one of the best reunion addresses the veterans have heard.

There is always one touch of sadness about the dinners and that is the memorial service. This year the list of the men who died in the past 12 months was larger than it has ever been. Twenty-nine names were on the list, some of the men who were active in the work of the veteran's association just a short time ago. The names of those who died are at the end of this article.

Officers And Committees

The closing of the program opened the floodgates of reminiscence and for several hours the vets sat around the Castleton fanning about the days of long ago. The weather is usually nice for the Pennsylvania veterans reunions and this year followed the recipe.

The following officers and committees handled the arrangements for today's success

Officers—I. W. Tate, president, R. W. Roberts, 1st vice president; R. B. Lally, 2nd vice president; Stanley Morosky, 3rd vice president; F. W. Lawrence, 4th vice president; M. T. Stone, 5th vice president; R. E. O'Donnell, treasurer; E. M. Fisher, secretary.

Yes! this is another dog story. A resident of Lathrop street was much incensed this morning against the dogs that wander about his neighborhood. The parade formed at the city parking lot at the foot of Mercer street, moved over South street to Jefferson, up Jefferson to the Diamond and along Washington street to East, thence to North, over North to Jefferson, and down Jefferson street to the Central Fire Station, where it was disbanded.

The largest, and perhaps most colorful delegation was that from the Hillsville and Mahoning township school. Two big bus loads came in for the parade, the children wearing natty headpieces which they had made in the schools. They were chaperoned by their teachers. Sunny Side school, with Principal J. Arthur Turek, also had a large delegation in line.

In addition, most of the city schools were represented in the line of march, but not in as large a number.

City police went ahead of the parade in a cruiser car and kept the line of march open.

If, as the Republicans propose, congress will put the WPA on a new basis with more local control, Hopkins would necessarily be shorn of authority, he added.

Speaking of the Townsend $200-a-month pension plan, Martin said: "Every one realizes that the question of old-age security is one of the big problems. All programs should have a fair hearing. That includes the Townsend plan. It has never had a hearing."

Tackle Farm Problem

The probable new Republican house leader predicted that the Republicans will favor adequate national defense, but are opposed to an "offensive preparedness". The G. O. P. will attempt to solve the farm problem, Martin said.

The government reorganization bill, as proposed by the New Deal in the last session, is dead, he said.

"A reorganization plan must be based upon efficiency and not upon a bid for more power for the president or to put instruments of coercion in his hands," said Martin.

Admitting that no Democratic members volunteered to accept his invitation to join in an anti-New Deal coalition, Martin nevertheless predicted a coalition to "oppose all un-American, unsound measures."

FRANCE AND THE NEW DEAL

ONLY a year or so ago the French people put into effect a new deal which was advertised to set them on the high road to prosperity. Many of the features of the Roosevelt New Deal were copied, including a forty-hour week. Now the newspapers are featuring in their headlines the fact that France is fighting to stave off bankruptcy. This desperate fight was started when Premier Daladier took over the reins and demanded and received dictatorial powers which were to last until November 15. One of M. Daladier's first moves was to modify the workings of the forty-hour week on the theory that because of rising costs France was falling far behind her competitors in the race for world trade.

Now we are told that the nation faces a treasury deficit of sixty billion francs, which is over a billion and a half in our money and has an unfavorable trade balance of about a third of a billion dollars.

The situation was serious enough to cause another cabinet crisis and recently in a shake-up Justice Minister Paul Reynaud, lawyer, businessman and finance expert, was chosen minister of finance in the French cabinet.

M. Reynaud is a rightist and is opposed to communism, which has been growing rapidly in France during the past few years. However, he is not an orthodox rightist and the politicians hope that he can secure the support of the left groups and pull some rabbits out of the hat which will save the French situation. If he does, they will be a new breed of rabbits, because the New Deal bunnies didn't come any way near solving the economic problem. In fact, they only made the situation worse.

Of course a billion and a half deficit may not look so big to us Americans who are used to deficits of our own far larger than that. But it is to be remembered that France isn't as big or as wealthy a country as the United States. Moreover, the French are not so imbued with the idea of letting Santa Claus do it as we are, and they aren't willing to experiment with the New Deal as much as we.

The lesson seems to be that New Deal policies mean unbalanced budgets and huge deficits wherever they are tried. The only difference is that the French seemed to realize it quicker than we did.

CHANGED REVOLUTIONIST

The other day there died in New York a citizen named B. Charney Vladeck. Many Americans outside of New York City had never heard of him, but his story should interest us all. The New York Evening Post said of him, in an editorial, "His life was a socially useful one, and his activities in recent years had won him a wide and deserved esteem."

He was one of the founders of the American Labor Party. He was a Fusion-Laborite minority leader in the city council. He was manager of the Jewis Daily Forward, a metropolitan newspaper. He served two terms on the New York board of aldermen. He had taken part in better housing programs and was a member of the American Civil Liberties Union. Mayor La Guardia appointed him to the city housing authority, and he had recently been elected again to the city council.

Mr. Vladeck was born in czarist Russia. In his youth he was a revolutionist. He narrowly escaped exile in Siberia. Then he came to America, where he ceased to be a revolutionist and became a supporter of democracy and moderate reform. In a country where all freedom was denied, violent revolution seemed necessary. In the United States, where freedom not only existed but was the foundation on which the nation was built, the democratic process was recognized and followed.

There is a lesson here for Americans and for aliens in our midst.

JAPAN'S PRETENSIONS

So different a few months ago was the outlook that it would have seemed incredible the same day should produce at three great capitals these events of outstanding importance.

Prompt and overwhelming ratification by the British Commons of the Anglo-Italian pact concerning the Mediterranean as an avowed first step of British "appeasement" of the European dictators; the cession at Berlin by the Foreign Ministers of Germany and Italy of 4,000 square miles of Czechoslovakian territory to Hungary; the announcement by Japan she intends to dominate all East Asia on a totalitarian basis, with purposeful slamming of the "open door."

Each of these steps is corollary to the submission of the European democracies to Hitler at Munich. That of the Japanese is the boldest. It flouts, in advance of deigning to answer, the strong note of Secretary Hull protesting against interference with our Chinese trade. It defies by inference the vast British trade interests in the interior of China, making of proud Hongkong just another island off the Chinese coast. Not content with conquest in Manchukuo and dominance of the Northern Chinese provinces, Japan openly proclaims her intention to rule all of China. She invites the powers to "adapt their attitude to the new conditions prevailing in East Asia." She is for tightening the Anti-Comintern Pact that ties her to Hitler and Mussolini.

Japan insists the Nine Power Pact of 1922 is dead. China is hers, she maintains, and that's that. Here are flamboyance and chauvinism timed to the moment in the belief that the British, building up against the threat of Hitler, are incapable of applying force to the Orient. That may be the case at present, but it requires a rare degree of Japanese optimism to hold it can be true of a long future. "How to build up a world peace on a fair basis" is "one of the most important tasks," as Premier Prince Konoye insists, but if the Japanese are going the right way about it, all the lessons of history are in vain.

Parents are like nations. And races. They spoil a kid till he becomes impudent and then lick him for it.

But alas! No Navy can keep European ideas out of South America or prevent a change when they get there.

It must be trying to live in a country where you seem a nobody if you are decently polite to the wrong person.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

HELP CHILD UNDERSTAND PARENTS

I wish teachers and Sunday school teachers would find more ways of making effective suggestions concerning how children might be happier if they strive harder to make their parents happy. I wish teachers of adolescents might help youth more to understand why their parents, feeling the responsibility for their children's health and moral character, knowing the pitfalls ahead of them, sometimes seem unduly strict; might also help these boys and girls to see that they have an opportunity to share more responsibilities in the home, and that in doing so they will gain abundant permanent satisfactions.

Many Opportunities

I wish school teachers from the kindergarten upward to the twelfth grade would be alert to the thousands of opportunities to cultivate wholesome attitudes in children toward their parents. Many a reading or composition lesson, for example, might be built about the child's learning in the home to wait upon himself, to care for his things, to do his home chores cheerfully, to help entertain his baby brother or sister. There's no better way to motivate reading at school than through encouraging the child there to read aloud to a younger child at home. I can think of no better means of helping a poor reader of the fourth or fifth grade, since to the little child he naturally would read easy material, the very kind he needs to practice on.

Sense Problems

In arithmetic and social sciences in the upper grades and high school, through family budgets and countless problems of family relationships, a thoughtful teacher can be very effective at leading youth to sense many of the problems which daily face their parents, and the opportunity for sharing some of these home burdens.

As one high school teacher said to her class, "Why should you expect your mother to mend, press and wash your clothes? Are you a cripple? Certainly you don't wish to grow up to be a human parasite."

Just Folks

PORTRAIT

Rich or poor, or young or grayed
Met him at their case.
Caste and creed no difference made,
All he hoped to please.
Seemed to live his life as though
All upon the earth below
Had the self-same way to go.

Waved his hand and said "hello!"
Passing young or old.
Never used his breath to blow
Flatteries hot and cold.
Seemed as though he understood
Everyone about him would
Be a hero, if he could.

Said that life is much too brief
For distinction small,
Disappointment, pain and grief
Come to one and all.
Rich and poor and high and low,
Come to earth this life to know
And to death at last they go.

CANADA

When the Spaniards visited this country previous to the French and searched for silver and gold and found none, they said "Aca nada" (there is nothing here). The Indians, who watched closely, learned the sentence and its meaning. Then came the French, and the Indians, who did not want them, supposing they had come on the same mission as the Spanish, kept pouring into their ears the Spanish sentence, "Aca nada". The French, who knew as little of the Spanish language as the Indians, and supposing that the constantly repeated sound was the name of the country, ultimately christened it "Canada", which it has borne ever since.

Things are often not as bad as they seem, but they seem so.

Dear Miss Markel—When a servant brings in a serving dish to the dining room should it be on a tray?
GENE.

Answer—It may be placed on a small tray or held in the palm of the waitress' hand, a folded napkin being placed between the dish and her hand.

Dear Miss Markel—Where should the date be placed on a letter?

Answer—In a business letter it is placed in the upper right-hand corner under the address. In a social letter it may be placed in the upper right-hand corner or in the lower left-hand corner across from the signature.

Workable Pan-American Union Needed
Uncle Sam Must Cultivate Neighbors
Businessmen Blamed For Conditions

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 12.—Next December's Pan-American gathering at Lima, Peru, comes at a very significant juncture. With Germany in particular and various other overseas countries in general waging vigorous campaigns of penetration in the New World's southern republics, it obviously stands Uncle Sam in hand to do some intensive cultivating of his own in the same quarter. In the past the United States has neglected Latin America scandalously. The Pan-American Union, originally of Yankee inspiration, has done its best for years, but until quite recently its voice has cried pretty much in the wilderness. John Barrett, the Union's first director general, personally was highly thought of from the Rio Grande to Cape Horn. Up north, however, his ideas didn't get the attention they deserved, and the Latins knew it, which considerably discounted his influence. Dr. Leo S. Rowe, who succeeded Barrett and still is in office, counts substantially with the present Washington government. Yet even he wasn't seriously regarded earlier in his administration.

And, anyway, the Pan-American Union never has had an official status—no authority. It simply has done missionary work. This missionary work is beginning to take effect at last. Nevertheless we have a long lead, in our rivals' favor, to make up.

OUR BUSINESSMEN'S FAULT

In great part our businessmen were largely to blame.

They reckoned that they had markets enough elsewhere and didn't need to bother with Latin America's. Even if they did happen to have an occasional surplus they wanted Latin Americans to take what they had on hand. It was unadapted to Latin American requirements.

Illustratively:

Latin American rural roads mainly are the trails of two-wheeled carts, with wheels about six feet in diameter. These wheels dig deep ruts—with a high ridge between them. Our average automobile hasn't a sufficient clearance to navigate such deep hollows. The axles simply straddle the hump, with the wheels spinning helplessly.

Did our manufacturers pay any attention to this difficulty? They did not—with the exception of Fords, which accidentally do happen to have a pretty high clearance.

European makers came, took a look, saw the point and built their Latin American autos accordingly. Naturally they got the bulk of the business.

There are Yankee exceptions. The International Harvester Company, the Singer Sewing Machine Company, some of the typewriter companies and a few others have the intelligence to meet local demands—but not many of us.

The World War's end offered us our grand good chance. Europe, from which the Latins had been in the habit of getting nearly all of their manufactured stuff, was flat on its back. We were all keyed up to maximum production. They bought from us or went without. We could have grabbed all that trade and kept it. But we still balked at giving them what they wanted. Of course then, our rivals have wormed back all their old business.

HOOVER SAW IT

President Hoover was our first statesman to sense this situation. Unfortunately he hasn't what the Latins call a "sympathetic personality." He meant well but wasn't the kind the Latins respond to. Guided by Dr. Rowe, President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Hull do seem to have the requisite quality. They did remarkably well at the last Pan-American conference in Buenos Aires. Maybe they'll do yet better at Lima.

It's an uphill fight, but we're progressing upward.

We have one advantage.

Traditionally the Latin republics are democratic.

They have their dictatorial streaks. Basically they are pro-liberal.

Nazi-ism and Fascism have been promptly squelched in Brazil, Chile and Argentina.

What we need, of course, is a REAL Pan-American Union.

The Great Game Of Politics

The Word Smells

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.

NOT the least significant result of Tuesday's elections is the completeness with which the returns appear to express the views of the voters on the subject of "liberals" and "liberalism" as they have been portrayed since the birth of the New Deal.

IT was not a defeat for true liberals or real liberalism. But it was a smashing rebuff all along the line to the pseudo-liberals and the fake liberalism with which we have been drenched for the last six years. At least for a while the mind has been taken out of the professional purveyors of these terms. The country seems to have cleared its head and regained its perspective. Ever since 1932 this Administration and its adherents, from the President down, have monopolized the words. In no Presidential utterance since his first inauguration has he failed to speak of himself, his policies and his supporters as liberals; in nearly every speech, statement or message he classified his opponents and critics as reactionaries. The words clearly were intended to mean that all those for the Roosevelt policies were good; all those not for them were wicked. As used by Mr. Roosevelt and his friends they meant just that and nothing more.

NO journalistic reflector of New Deal opinions could write anything without using them; all its political spokesmen flavored their remarks with them; C. I. O. labor leaders, Communist leaders, every demagogue in the land; all the soap-box orators from Mr. Ickes to Sheridan Downey, without the least understanding of what liberalism really means, mouthed the words incessantly. Not in any period of our history have they been so repetitiously and profusely used. The little Cocoran-Cohen group of radical advisers could not speak or write at all without their aid. In his last speech—November 4—in which he appealed to the people to continue "liberals" in office, Mr. Roosevelt used the word no less than nine times.

FOUR days later the voters responded by rejecting every conspicuous "liberal" who was running, including those for whom Mr. Roosevelt particularly pleaded. The exceptions were in New York, where the margin was so narrow that it can hardly be called victory, and in California, which is an incalculable and curious State. Everywhere else—Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Massachusetts—the professional "liberals" were flattened out by the returns. All the candidates wearing the liberal livery were left in the lurch. The thing was practically complete and extremely significant. For one thing, it means that the great middle classes of the country have begun to see through the fakery of the professional breast beaters and cheap radicals who so loudly proclaimed their "liberalism". It has now been shown that their noise is wholly out of proportion to their numbers. For another thing, it means that the whole New Deal game of classifying themselves as the embodiment of all virtue and wisdom and picturing every dissenter as cruel, greedy, inhuman and generally evil, has been overplayed. It was sure to react in the end; the uncertainty was when.

The Human Side Of The News

(By EDWIN C. HILL)

Copyright 1938 King Features Syndicate, Inc.

It has become quite clear that Germany, Italy and Japan are setting up in the empire business in a big way. Germany wants her colonies back, pronto, and England has indicated that she is ready to appease her with some nice meat from the French and Belgian portions. There is paraphrased here Ogden Nash's famous poem of the "Four Brassy So-and-So's", in which one of the four, having been rooked, rolled and rummed by the others, becomes a "self-appointed" so-and-so, "out to get it back".

This empire foursome is no place for old people and cripples, or even innocent bystanders. Nor is it a safe sheepfold for little wooly lambs who blat hopefully of "collective security". If this should seem to be an unfeeling reference to the tragic impasse of world civilization, it is not intended as such. It is rather an effort to state in our native work-a-day journalese this writer's deep conviction that our imperative national duty, not only to ourselves but to the entire bedeviled world is to save, safeguard, defend and rejuvenate our own civilization. I firmly believe that it is our job to "brighten the corner where we are", and to make sure that it continues to be our corner and not one of those map "areas of lighter shading" under alien mandate, or suzerainty.

It appears to this writer that the mere complexities and uncertainties of world imperialism should be quite sufficient to warn us to keep out of it. Consider a few of them. More than 20 years ago, Japan began fanning up its pan-Asiatic doctrine through the Orient. The countless millions of Islam and of the Buddhistic peoples are in a flux and ferment which alone would gravely imperil the world status quo, aside from the clash of imperial desires, "manifest" or conjectural.

Japan unquestionably is preparing a thrust far down into the Pacific, south and east, keeping the Dutch burghers awake as her shadow falls across their 3,000 miles of Malaysian empire. She cracked China by imitating England's procedure in serving India—dealing with corrupt warlords. And now there is sound evidence that she is working on the Indian maharajahs.

England pulls out of the central European squirrel cage, tosses Spain and the Mediterranean to Mussolini, re-draws her trade routes, building up Capetown to its old pre-Suez status and starts the Duke of Kent out drumming up colonial loyalty as his brother used to do. Germany, under the high-pressure dynamics of its new militarized barter economics, which makes all classical

Emanuel Church Eightieth Year Soon To Arrive

Evangelical Members Plan Anniversary Observance November 20

CHURCH AT CORNER OF JEFF AND SOUTH

Emanuel Evangelical Congregation, whose brick church has graced the corner of South Jefferson and West South streets since 1880, is now about to observe the eightieth anniversary of its beginning.

The anniversary services, in charge of the present pastor, Rev. J. George Knippel, who is now serving for his seventh year and who is retiring from active ministerial duties in September, 1939, will take place on November 20, the Sunday before Thanksgiving Day. There will be an anniversary sermon at 10:45 a. m. by the pastor, and an historical address at 7:30 p. m. by Samuel Warner, M. D., of New Castle. Dr. Warner was brought by his parents to New Castle as a young child and grew up in Emanuel church where his parents and other relatives were faithful members.

Dr. R. E. Neighbour Here Next Monday

Prominent Evangelist To Speak At Baptist And Primitive Methodist

Dr. Robert E. Neighbour, one of the great Bible teachers and evangelists of the world, brother of Mrs. H. G. Woodrow of the Wilmington road, will preach in the First Baptist church on Monday night at 7:30 o'clock and in the Maitland Memorial Primitive Methodist church on Tuesday and Wednesday nights at 7:30 o'clock.

Dr. Neighbour and his wife, who is also a speaker of ability, are being brought to New Castle through the influence of the Christian Fundamentals Fellowship, to which a number of local ministers and laymen are members. The Neighbours recently returned to America from an evangelistic tour which took them to many countries. They were away for one and a half years.

Dr. Neighbours will speak first at the monthly meeting of the Fellowship in the Baptist church, corner of East and North streets, at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon. There will be a young people's rally at 6:30, with Mrs. Neighbour as the speaker. She will show motion pictures taken on the tour of missionary fields.

At 7:30 Rev. Neighbour will be heard in the main auditorium of the church by a large audience comprised of pastors, members and friends of the churches belonging to the Fellowship. Rev. Albert Tinker, president, will preside.

Then on Tuesday and Wednesday nights Dr. Neighbour will preach in Rev. Tinker's church, the Maitland Memorial P. M., on South Mill street at Maitland street.

Big Day Planned Tomorrow At Renovated Church In Energy Community

Greenwood Methodist Episcopal church, Energy, Pa., will have an "Old Timer's Day" Sunday, November 13. It is desired that all former members and friends will avail themselves of this opportunity of meeting and greeting each other in a fashion befitting the occasion.

Meanwhile, it has undergone complete repairs and some modification in interior design which has added to its appearance appreciably. The church was erected 81 years ago, in the year 1857, by one of the charter members, A. P. Shaffer. The present pastor of Greenwood, Rev. G. Edward Shaffer, is a grandson of the former Mr. Shaffer pioneer and builder.

The pastor announces that beginning on Sunday evening, November 13, evangelistic meetings will be held throughout the week. Evangelist Loy Mershimer of Harrisville, in charge.

Ellwood City High In Great Triumph; Beats Beaver Falls 19-0

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 12.—With confidence that comes from victories gained, the great Ellwood City high school football eleven maintained its top place rating on Friday afternoon at Reeves stadium by decisively defeating a strong Beaver Falls high school team 19-0 before an estimated crowd of 15,000 Armistice Day fans.

Arranged as the afternoon feature of the big Beaver county celebration by the Joseph H. Thompson post of Beaver Falls, early afternoon found the huge stadium and bleachers crowded as closely as teeth in a saw with spectators and several hundred other fans formed a wall about the barred field.

Those that had any doubt about the Tubers being rated as champions were convinced by yesterday's super performance of the Croft Cyclone, whose 11 individual torpedoes blasted any hopes the Walton crew had of upsetting the Ellwood sons. It was another great triumph and joy for the faithful, jubilant Ellwood supporters, who only twice in the past decade have seen their representatives emerge as winners from a Beaver Falls fray. It was a gratifying and satisfactory outcome for the popular, likeable and capable head coach, Thurman "Dutch" Croft and his equally efficient and well-liked assistant, Howard B. Gills, with their long, tiring hours of drilling, marked with persistence and patience, speaking for itself in the championship team.

If any one of the local lads be selected for individual praise, it must be Dick Newton, who carried the oval into the coveted touchdown land three times, making himself the leading scorer in Beaver county. Beaver Falls was prepared in a way for the fast, clever Jones and Snare, who despite being covered broke away often for long gains, but they reckoned without Dick Newton, who is without question the best hard-hitting and driving line plunger in the district, and from indications his understudy, Tommy Murphy, who was the last quarter flash, will fill his shoes very capably next year.

In scrimmage, the Blue and White outgained the Tigers 225 to 132 yards and in the matter of first downs they were about even with Ellwood having 10 to their 9. Ellwood tried only two passes, one good for 24 yards, paving the way for a touchdown and the other intercepted, while Beaver Falls completed four out of 10 for a total of 22 yards.

Almost before the fans were aware that the game was underway, Ellwood scored to show their opponents they meant business and to give the bleacher crowds an inkling of their power. Keller kicked from the 40 to the 7 with Capozza receiving and coming back to his 36 before being downed by Bartle. In the next play Cunningham recovered a Falls fumble on the Beaver Falls 36 and then Newton slashed the right side for 12, having 5 called on an offside penalty. Jones and Snare added 11 more through the line and Snare took a reverse from Jones for 8 more and in the next play with perfect teamwork smashed right guard and raced 16 yards to score. Keller's try for the extra point failed. A 23-yard gain by Newton featured the period and near the close of the quarter, Bartle recovered another Beaver Falls fumble on their 45. Newton, Jones, Pishioneri and Cunningham were a shade the best for Ellwood in this period while Capozza, Householder, Luchente, Goll and Tkacik were Beaver Falls' defense guns.

For the second touchdown, which came early in the second period, Ellwood staged a 55-yard drive with Ellwood's idyllic backfield, Jones, Snare, Newton and Kolch slashing first to the right side then the left for sizable gains and Newton carried it over from the nine-yard marker. Keller's placement made the score 13-0. For the first time this year, Frank Kolch, Ellwood's topnotch blocking back, carried the ball in a surprise play. Walter Robuck replaced Tommy Jones in this period, the latter being removed with a leg injury. The balance of the period was uneventful. During the first half Ellwood opened holes in Beaver Falls' line big enough for the government to build their super highway through. By many substitutions Walton finally made his defense a little stronger.

Early in the third period Farkas recovered another Tiger fumble but lost the ball when Welsh intercepted Jones' pass. A poor Falls punt set the stage for Ellwood's last touchdown. Ellwood took the ball on their own 44 and Newton gained 8 yards through the line and then Snare provided a thrill when he added 19 yards on a reverse from Robuck before being stopped by Lyons. Kolch made 2 through left tackle and then came the game's most exciting play. Robuck shot a long 24-yard pass to Snare, and though it seemed to be a yard ahead of him he reached out and grabbed it to thrill the spectators before being pushed out of bounds on the Beaver Falls six. Snare is an exceptional pass receiver.

In the next two plays, Newton hit the line and was over to make the score 19-0.

Then the Falls crew began a drive that threatened. Capozza and Householder added 23 yards on reverses and fake reverses with Snare, Robuck and Cunningham making the tackles, and the ball was on Ellwood's 27. Capozza and Householder in short gains added 15 more and then like all teams that are behind they began trying pass after pass. Ellwood was penalized half the distance to the goal and the ball was on Ellwood's 9, and it was the locals' ball. Newton immediately kicked out of the danger zone and a Beaver Falls player touched the ball and it was still Ellwood's ball and Robuck quick kicked the leather further up field. Beaver Falls tried to pass but they were broken up by Ellwood or were incomplete. Ellwood was on defense most of the last period until the end when Murphy gave warning of what he has to offer in knifing the line for large gains. Ellwood's reserves played most of the last period and made their usual fine showing.

Capozza was Beaver Falls' big threat and had his teammates equalled his showing it might have been a sorry day for the Blue and White. Householder was also a good offensive player and others that were best on defense were Ashbrook, Tkacik, Lyons, Goll and Luchente.

The bands of both schools entertained at the half.

Next Saturday afternoon Ellwood winds up their schedule with Bessemer high at Lincoln field in a game that is expected to again require the Lincoln gridders' best.

Legion Auxiliary Membership Drive Now In Progress

Meaning Of Membership And Auxiliary Progress Described By Mrs. S. R. Berstler

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 12.—After the World war was over the ex-service men banded together into an organization called The American Legion, pledging themselves to serve their country in Peace as well as in war, it was only natural that the women in the families of these men should desire to serve with them.

The result of this desire is the American Legion Auxiliary, comprised of wives, mothers, sisters and daughters of legionnaires and which has grown to be the largest and most influential organization of patriotic women in the United States.

The program of the Legion is closely followed by the Auxiliary and in order to carry out this program the organization must have an interested membership, for a strong membership is the first essential of success in all activities.

In every community where there is a flourishing unit of the American Legion Auxiliary, the leaders of religious, civic and patriotic groups realize that at all times there is available a group of women interested in the well being of every individual in that community.

Members appreciate the privilege and honor that comes to them to serve their country through the medium of this organization, which was won for them through the services of fathers, husbands, sons and brothers during the war.

They believe in the things the American Legion stands for, in the earnest endeavors to promote world peace and in the primary objective of caring for the sick and disabled, their families and the widows and orphans of the World war.

The program is so appealing and so varied that every woman will find something of interest and even if she is too busy to take an active part, she knows that her money paid in dues is being used exclusively for carrying on the work in the hospitals for the care of the sick and disabled.

Membership in the American Legion Auxiliary means: Rehabilitation, the power to bring outside contact and cheer to buddies in the hospital, to give them an occupation by the making of poppies and to share with them and their families their joys and sorrows, to assure hospitalization for these men and to see that they receive the little luxuries that would otherwise be denied.

Membership means child welfare, the bringing of sunshine and joy to the hearts of little children who because of circumstance of birth or environment do not receive those things which are rightfully theirs.

Membership means Americanism and national defense, opportunity to keep America free from all "isms," to bring lasting peace to the world, to instill love and respect for the flag and to cherish and uphold the Constitution.

Membership means legislation, the opportunity to work hand in hand with the American Legion to secure better laws for the ex-service man and his family.

Pennsylvania has the distinction of having the largest membership in the national organization with 38,000 members enrolled last year.

The J. Wilbur Randolph unit under the capable leadership of the membership chairman, Mrs. T. C. Sleighter, is conducting an intensive drive during the month of November which is membership month. Two teams are at work and all old members are being enrolled as well as many new ones being added.

It is the earnest desire of Mrs. Sleighter and Mrs. S. R. Berstler, western sub-chairman of membership in Pennsylvania that every eligible woman and girl be given an opportunity to avail herself of a membership in this organization of service.

No higher privilege could come to a girl than to be a member of the American Legion Auxiliary because of her father's service to his country, and for this reason the Juniors have been organized in their own special group and are fast learning the fundamentals of serving "For God and Country."

Every woman made eligible to membership through the service of a loved one in 1917-18 should give her support to a program to serve those who served us, and to the families of those who paid the supreme sacrifice.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 12.—Undismayed by the walkout of 250,000 members of the International Ladies Garment Workers Union, John L. Lewis today conferred with the remaining 41 presidents of CIO unions as final plans for the first constitutional convention were laid here.

Lewis himself reserved comment on the walkout of the garment workers headed by David Dubinsky, but his executive assistant, Walter Smethurst declared that there would be no change in policy of the Committee for Industrial Organization, and other leaders pointed optimistically to the fact that the garment workers, while not satisfied with CIO policies, seemed to care even less for any affiliation with the American Federation of Labor.

"I have nothing to say now and probably won't make a statement until the convention opens," Lewis told newspapermen.

Mischa Levitzki Is One Of Great Artists Of Present Age

Music lovers, particularly those interested in the piano will have a treat next Wednesday, when Mischa Levitzki, noted piano virtuoso will appear at the George Washington Junior high school in the second number of the Civic Music Association's program for the year.

Mr. Levitzki explains why modern music appears so seldom on his programs with the statement that although he performs modern music continually in his studio he uses it on his programs sparingly, because he plays in public only music whose feeling he has completely absorbed, and music which he deeply loves. "As you know" he says, "Some of this modern music takes a lot of loving."

Mr. Levitzki expressed amazement that some should think interest in the piano is on the wane. "This is perfectly ridiculous" he says. "The piano as everyone knows, is the basic instrument of music. Whether one dances, sings or plays the violin, the piano is needed. The piano will live as long as music lives, and music will only die when the human race dies."

Levitzki was born in Russia, made his debut in Antwerp, and since 1916 has made yearly tours of the United States.

New Execution Date To Be Set For Ohio Woman

(International News Service)

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 12—Clearing the way for the state supreme court to set a new execution date for Anna Marie Hahn, convicted Cincinnati poison murderess, the mandate of the U. S. supreme court which denied her appeal was received today by the state court.

It was expected the state court would announce the new execution date soon, possibly next Wednesday, its next regular decision day.

Refusal of her plea by the supreme court left executive clemency from Governor Davey as Mrs. Hahn's only hope of escaping the electric chair for the poison of aged Jacob Wagner in Cincinnati.

The mission for women being held at Saint Mary's church on North Beaver street will come to a solemn conclusion tomorrow, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Father Malachy Kain, O. F. M., will then bless all religious articles. He will then conduct the renewal of baptismal vows, a repetition of the promises made at the administration of the sacrament of baptism. Finally Father Malachy will confer the Papal Blessing. The Human Side Of The News economics just the sighing of the wind in the willows, starts a lineplunge down the Danube and a drive toward the Ukraine.

By EDWIN C. HILL

Stir into all this the boiling Moslem bloc, astride of England's vital Iraq oil line, shrewd old Ibn Saud and Arabia Felix, the synthetic terror of Palestine, resurgent Italy, an added starter but coming fast, the Comite des Forges, with its interlocking trans-European steel and munitions cartels which are obliterating national lines in the higher diplomacy, the scramble of oil and power politics, Sir Henry Deterding, with his Dutch citizenship and his British title, the wreck and debris of broken treaties, the "rising tide of color" and the cadaver of the League of Nations—make a stew of all this and if you can name it, you can, and in Christopher Morley's phrase, "unscrew the inscrutable". Failing in this, we can at any rate find comfort in the fact that the prevailing planetary winds are from west to east.

This department has been moved to unwonted feeling about all this by a flew of handsome brochures, press releases, innocent looking and pervasive bits of flimsy oozing onto this work bench from heaven knows where, but uniformly goading and rowelling us gently into this broad highway of hate." I do believe that every citizen of leadership and authority in our country should swing a red lantern across every feeder line, every tributary of thought and opinion, which leads into this Via Dementia. It just isn't safe. And only by saving our own civilization can we prevent it from becoming humanity's Via Dolorosa.

WHAT renders particularly painful the position of the professional liberals who have so blatantly assured us that the people were with them, is that they have no one upon whom to put the blame except the people themselves. There was in this campaign no Liberty League to use as a goat. They cannot, of course, allege that they were defeated by the power of the press, because they have been insisting for four years that the press has no power. Nor can they place the blame upon a business depression. In the last six weeks business has been getting steadily better—and they have been taking the credit.

It is not possible either to allege that "Big Business" bought the election. In the first place, "Big Business" conspicuously took no part; in the second place, the New Dealers certainly matched the other side in the size of their campaign funds, even if no account be taken of the billions of Federal money—particularly for relief—which constituted an admitted New Deal asset. Actually there isn't an alibi left. The only possible people to blame are the great mass of middle-class voters, who seem to have opened their eyes and expressed themselves most heartily against this fake liberalism, which has been preached to them so long and so consistently. If the Republicans are smart—and that remains to be proved—they will stop this silly business of imitating New Deal "liberalism". They will stop talking about "liberalizing the Republican party and calling themselves "liberals". The New Deal and Mr. Roosevelt have patented the word. They have gotten all there is out of it. Let them have it. The thing to do now is not to call oneself a liberal, but to be one. The word has been so misused that it has begun to stink.

"Put him in a car, take him so far out the highway he won't be able to walk back."

However, Fink warned the man that another appearance in police court would net a jail sentence.

Veterans Meet Friday Night

Armistice Day Is Observed With Annual Banquet At The Castleton

Every year for most of the years since the war, a group of veterans here in New Castle has gotten together on Armistice Day, for a dinner that is always followed by a period of reminiscing. The custom has been followed whether any formal organization was on hand or not, and it is looked forward to with more pleasure.

This year, at the Day dinner was held in the Castleton Hotel and like its progenitors, was good. No formal speeches, but a few minutes from a lot of fellows and their experiences on the last Armistice Day are enjoyed.

After slowing a chicken dinner away, Ivor V. Davis led the crowd in singing the songs of the World War, "Tipperary," "Long Long Trail" and the rest of the favorites took quite a beating. Ivor M. Richards introduced the toastmaster, Attorney William J. Caldwell who was also elected chairman for the 1939 dinner.

The speakers included John S. McKibben, James A. Fletcher, Edward D. Fletcher, Edward Hess, Jack Gerson, State Senator William J. Eros, Dr. Raymond C. Lutz, William E. Perry, Judge W. Walter Beshoar, T. Wilbur McCullough, H. G. Bastian, Orville Potter, Dave Tobin, N. P. Nelson, Robert E. Armstrong, Jr., Leo Downie, Major Guy J. Wachtmeyer, R. Harold Bloom.

Dr. Dafoe's Column On The Quintuplets And The Care Of Your Children

(Copyright 1938, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Our experiences in clothing the quintuplets since their birth have taught us a lot about this little known science. I am convinced that every child would be healthier if parents gave some study to clothing their little ones, for in too many homes, clothing is just something to keep the child warm.

It gets pretty cold here in Callander along about January or February. The children always go out for their play, even when the thermometer is hovering around 20 to 30 below. Well, a couple of years ago, in our anxiety to make sure they were warm enough, we bundled them up in too many clothes. They were like little balls and when they fell down, we would have to pick them up, for they were like the armored knights of old. They couldn't get up by themselves.

We found, that, trussed up in so much heavy, binding clothes, moving was an effort for the children. The result was they perspired, became over-fatigued, and fell easy prey to colds—the very thing we were seeking to avoid when we made sure that they had plenty of clothing on.

I realize now that the majority of parents make the same mistake. They want to make sure the child is warm enough, so they overdo it.

Children's clothing should fit properly. I know that sounds so simple that it is almost ridiculous for me to make the statement, but I am convinced that its simplicity causes it to be overlooked too often.

By saying clothes should fit properly, I mean there should be ample room for arm and leg movements; they must not bind on any part of the body, for this not only retards the body movement, but it interferes with circulation as well.

Underclothing must not fit too tightly, for you need an envelope of air next your skin, to act as an insulator. There is an old belief that your skin breathes, and so you should give it air. Of course, this isn't true; but it is true that the sweat glands shouldn't be blocked in the performance of their very important duties.

Underclothing should be woolen, and of very fine texture. Coarse wools irritate a child's delicate skin, and besides that they do not absorb perspiration as well as softer kinds. I can still remember the old woolen underwear when I was a boy. Rather I should say I'll never forget the way it used to itch and irritate for days and days until we got used to it.

In very cold weather see to it when your child goes out that his forehead neck and ears are protected. If you don't, a head cold is quite likely to result.

Of course, it is scarcely necessary for me to tell parents that footwear is important. It should be changed according to the weather.

Bears-Keystones Await Classic At Union High Field

Kickoff Sunday At 2:30 O'Clock Will Find Biggest Crowd Of Year On Hand

President Franklyn R. Crisci Has All Arrangements For Benefit Game Completed

EVERYTHING is in readiness for the New Castle City football championship benefit game at Union High field on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock that will send the Wabash Bears of the Seventh Ward out to meet the fast Keystone A. C., of the South Side district in a game that will determine the title holder for the season of 1938.

In event of good weather Union High field should be jammed to capacity for the annual independent classic, it was announced by Franklyn R. Crisci, president of the league today. All preparations for the big game have been completed.

Training Completed

Both teams have been hard at work on the practice field for the past two weeks and Coaches Adamo and Domenick of the Bears team are confident that the Mahoningtown entry will walk off with its third straight championship in three years. Just as confident that his team can stop the Wabashers is Coach Tobe Fenati of the Keystones.

The Bears are teeming mad at the Keys for the defeat handed to them two weeks ago at the E. & A. field when this Hammock lad ran wild. The Keys will have to keep an eye on Gabby DeCaprio a tricky ball handler. Also, on Palkovitch and Copple. Toscano and Tomalello are fine pass receivers and may break up any game with completed forwards.

Crisci Has Worked Hard

President Franklyn Crisci has been working hard to put this big benefit game over and has a fine committee working with him. It is hoped that a nice sum can be realized for the injured players of both teams. There are a few doctor bills to pay and a hospital bill for one of the boys.

A loud speaking system has been installed at the field and the game will be narrated for the fans. The fans will have plenty of seats in the bleachers. The fans are asked to stay off of the playing field. There will be ample parking space for autos.

There will only be the one entrance to the field and ticket booths will be erected on both sides of the entrance to handle the crowd.

Have New Coach

Little is known of the attack of the Keystones for the game Sunday as they are working out under a new coach and a good one in Tobe Fenati who is being assisted by Andy Cocis Venditto, a veteran of the game. The Keys will try hard to upset the Bears apple-cart it is stated and Hammock, Gray, Leonard, and Aven will be the big guns in the Keystones lineup.

Will Present Trophy

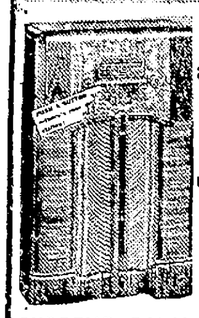

Immediately following the game Mr. Crisci will walk to the center of the field and present the winning captain with the handsome Perelman trophy cup signifying the championship of the City Football league for the season of 1938. The fans are asked to stay in their seats until after the cup presentation.

Following are the probable lineups:

Bears		Keystones
Toscano	L. E.	Madjeski
Rainey	L. T.	Leonard
Dombroski	L. G.	Carter
Adamo	C.	Aven
Russo	R. G.	Kirkwood

Raffa To Meet Smokey Monday

Barring Possible Injury In Training Boys Will Box Here

SEVERAL OTHER GOOD BOUTS ON CALENDAR

BOUTS MONDAY NIGHT

Halbert Brooks, New Castle vs Sock O'Brien, Titusville; 147 pound class.

Jess Robinson, Oil City vs Hal Knoch, New Castle; 135 pound class.

Jimmy Swopshire or Owen Wills, Pittsburgh vs Al Strakvic, Campbell; 165 pound class.

Andy Wertz, Youngstown vs Russ Phillips, Oil City; 140 pound class.

George Peterson, McKeesport vs Don Dixon, Golden glove tournament winner, Pittsburgh; 118 pound class.

Babe Hutchison, East Liverpool vs Jimmy Harper, Pittsburgh; 126 pound class.

Charlie Arkett, West Pittsburgh vs Irwin Hicks, State A. A. U. champion, Pittsburgh; 135 pound class.

Mike Raffa, East Liverpool vs Smokey Robinson, Oil City; 126 pound class.

Providing neither Mike Raffa nor Smokey Robinson sustain an injury while training today fistic fandom here should witness a good amateur boxing bout in The Arena, Monday night when the featherweights engage in a three round battle. Neither has met previously. Raffa, who comes from East Liverpool, has yet to taste defeat in a local ring. Robinson's only loss was by a decision to Billy Sharp, West Virginia state champion at 126 pounds.

Both have been training vigorously according to reports sent here. Raffa hopes to add to his prestige by handing a defeat to the colored flash while Robinson hopes to redeem his prestige by scoring over Raffa, then receiving a second chance to defeat Sharp. They will arrive here about four p. m. Monday, rest until seven p. m. when a physician will give them a physical examination then crawl through the ropes in the last of eight bouts.

Chuck Arkett, West Pittsburgh walloper, is said to be in excellent physical condition for his bout with Irvin Hicks, Pittsburgh. Arkett has had several years experience in the amateur ranks and has been an "in-and-outer" recently. However, he promises to put up the kind of a scrap he did with Cecil Sargent and should he do so fans can expect Hicks to find considerable opposition. Arkett is tough and a good puncher.

East Sider To Box

Another bout of a spotlight hue will find Babe Hutchison of East Liverpool exchanging punches with Jimmy Harper, a newcomer from Pittsburgh. They will weigh 126 pounds. Hutchison has not failed to put up good battles here. Harper is said to be a fairly good amateur boxer.

Andy Wertz of Youngstown who challenged then lost to Harold Blank after fighting several rugged 140-pounders will take on Russ Phillips of Oil City and Jimmy Swopshire or Owen Wills of Pittsburgh, will mix punches with Al Strakvic, Campbell, who wants a crack at Mickie Rubin.

Should Strakvic put up the kind of a fight that local fans want he will be given an opportunity to show whether or not he is capable of dimming the prestige of Mickie Rubin who has recently beat George Segerman, Joe Biro, Joe Popeski and Owen Wills.

Hal Koach, an East Side boy will meet Jess Robinson, Oil City, at 135 pounds, in the second bout of the night and the curtain raiser will find Halbert Brooks, alias Dancing Feet swinging punches with Sock O'Brien, the Titusville sorrel-top at 147 pounds.

The first bout will start at 8:30 p. m. Monday. Because of the interest in not only the Raffa-Robinson bout but also in the Arkett-Hicks battle and due also to other local boys being on the calendar, most advantageous reservations are in heavy demand reports state.

CASTLETONS TO PLAY

The Castleton Hotel football team will play the Rose Bowl team at Colonial field Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, it was announced. The Castletons would like to meet all fast junior teams in New Castle. Call Bill Kimmel at 4039.

GERSONS TO MEET

The Gerson basketball team will hold a workout Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the Arena floor it was announced today by Coach Mikey Kulich. All of the players are asked to be prompt in reporting.

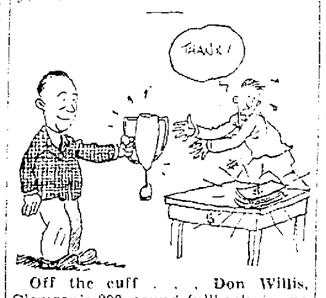

Open Season on Beauty

Leta Parker, modern Diana of Alexandria Bay, N. Y., is shown resting, with her dog, Whitey, and two pheasants already in the bag. The picture was taken on Wellesley Island, of the Thousand Island group, where fine bags of ducks, geese and pheasant have been reported.

Rambling Around World Of Sports

Union high's football field will be strewn with former New Castle high greats Sunday afternoon, when the Wabash Bears and Keystones lock horns to settle the 1938 supremacy of local independent ranks. The field will be covered with athletes who learned their football tactics from Phil Bridenbaugh. Such figures as "Gabby" DeCaprio, Louis Leonard, "Blackie" Adamo, Eddie Sovesky, Walter Palkovitch, Toscano, Tomalello, Dombroski, Perrett, only to mention a few, will match wits. The remaining pigskin addicts learned their football the hard way—in back of alleys and on empty lots. As for action, there isn't anything that can match the show these lads stage on the field. It'll be action all the way through, the type that appeals to the customers. The Bears from the Seventh Ward have copped the title for the past two years.

Off the cuff . . . Don Willis, Clemson's 200-pound fullback, is one of the best ground gainers in collegiate football. There are still 22 undefeated and untied gridiron machines. Santa Clara's Broncos have won 16 straight tussles. There is a strong possibility that Shenango township may battle Monaca high next season. Duke University, hit by more injuries than possibly any other major college eleven in the country, is our pick for making the best comeback of the season.

Didya Know? . . . Michigan gridders wear uniforms weighing a little better than 16 pounds, during scrimmage sessions. The regular suits tip the beams at 11 pounds. Bill Daddio's adeptness at kicking extra points and field goals is attributed to the fact that he employs perfect golf form. He is also one of the best niblick-swingers at Pitt. Little Everett Kischer, Iowa State's 155-pounder, is one of the best coffin corner kickers in the land. He's the closest thing to Carideo when it comes to booting the egg-shaped ball into the corner pocket.

Odds and ends . . . Due to schedule difficulties, Harvard and Brown do not clash on the gridiron again until 1943. All of Colgate's games are being played away from home this season. This present Notre Dame edition is considered the best since 1930. Southern California-California drew the largest grid crowd of the season, so far. Some 95,000 coatless fans watched the coast fracas in perfect summer climate last Saturday. About 100 persons watched the first football game on record, in 1869.

To Bill Zinger: Will have details on Pitt-Minnesota battle of 1934 within a few days. To Anthony Petrucci: George Cafego, sparkplug of Tennessee's great team, is a Hungarian. He operates on the gridiron like Marshall Goldberg.

Afield And Astream

With

Lawrence County Sportsmens Association

By "Bert" Rick

With the advent of the bear season in Pennsylvania, Monday, many Lawrence county sportsmen will trek into the "big woods" with hopes of outsmarting and bringing to bag Pennsylvania's most elusive game animal and most desired trophy which "Penn's Woods" has to offer, the black bear.

The handsome black bear is more abundant in Pennsylvania than in any other state of the union primarily because this state was the first to protect and enact sane laws for the preservation of these amusing creatures. Big game animals would have long since disappeared before the sometimes ruthless advance, of industry and civilization. It is remarkable that these canny "clowns" have been able to withstand the onslaught and live side by side with modernity—a tribute to the wisdom of our game commission.

The six-day open season, closing November 19, will give the bear hunters ample opportunity for a successful outing. Each individual is permitted to kill one adult bear, with the exception that a hunting party of five or more are restricted to a camp limit of two bears over one year of age. Cubs or bears under one year of age, are as usual, protected. All counties, with the exception of Bedford and Blair, are open to hunting.

Don't Molest Cubs

It is to the sportsmens' interest that cub bears be unmolested, the restriction on which, has been one of the chief contributions to a prolongivity of the sport. After the records of past years, in which scores of cubs have been wantonly exterminated, hunters should use descretion and save for seed these frocklesome youngsters, that are, in many cases, still accompanying the mother bear.

The ferocity of these apparently clumsy animals is overemphasized Except when wounded or acting in defense of their cubs they will plunge through the woods, over rocks and logs, with surprising agility in an endeavor to escape human interference. Only the most crafty woodsman will succeed in approaching unnoticed.

Identify Members

A very interesting and instructive meeting was held Wednesday night in the City Building hall. Many important questions relative to sportsmens' activties were discussed. The question of amending the fish laws to permit an angler a 24-hour period in which to produce his license in cases where it was unknowingly forgotten was thoroughly aired on the floor. It was finally agreed that no action would be taken due to the fact that non-resident fisherman could take advantage of such a provision.

It was decided that the club members would be provided with an arm band or other badge of identification to show that the wearer belonged to the Lawrence County Sportsmen Association, and could be identified as such in the field.

Much discussion followed the debate by William Houck and the writer on the merits of artificial lures and the use of live bait. Excellent arguments were heard from interested sportsmen on both sides of the question.

Sex of quail, Bob-whites, can be determined by the coloration of their throat patches. The male is white and the female buff.

New Castle High At Martins Ferry For Grid Battle

"Red Hurricane" Departs Early Today For Scene Of Grid Battle

TEAM AND BAND RIDE IN BUSES

Shortly after 8:30 o'clock this morning the New Castle high school football team, some 35 strong, left from Taggart stadium for Martins Ferry, O., in a big bus, where this afternoon at 2:15 o'clock New Castle and Martins Ferry resumed their grid series.

Heading the New Castle party was Coach Phil Bridenbaugh and his assistants, Thomas, Klee and Cuba, and Faculty Manager Scouts Nelson. The team was to be fed a light lunch in Martins Ferry prior to the game.

Look Good Friday.

The trip was expected to take about three hours. The team had intended to ride the special train, but when the train was cancelled, arrangements were made to go by bus.

In the final workout of the week last evening the "Red Hurricane" looked fit for the battle that awaits them this afternoon in the Ohio city.

The "Canes" looked snappy Friday afternoon as they finished off their week's training with a lively signal drill.

Hope To Repeat.

New Castle, having won last year 27 to 7, will make every effort to upset the Purple Riders again this year. The team is in pretty fair shape for the game, Joe Gender being the only real seriously injured player on the squad.

There has been a lively battle all week for the right halfback post, between Burris, Noga and Sowinski, with Bridenbaugh uncommunicative as to who will get the nod. Larry "Streak" Roberts will be at left halfback spot.

The New Castle team will rest next week and will return to the grid wars the following week to wind up the season with Sharon high's Tigers at Sharon on Thanksgiving day.

New Castle Rifle Club Wins Match

Defeat East Palestine, Ohio, Team 945 To 916 Friday Night

The New Castle Rifle club met and defeated East Palestine, Ohio rifle team last night at the East Palestine range in a Penn-Ohio Rifle league shoot 945 to 916 with Finley scoring a 193 string to lead the New Castle team, with Miles second with a 192 string.

The results: New Castle, Finley 193, Miles 192, Jesse Moore 188, Houck 187, McKeown 185—Total 945.

East Palestine: Evans 184, Cy Wilson 184, Shook 183, A. Fee 183, Grim 182—Total 916.

Other scores: New Castle, Horton 184, Schweinsberg 182, Hill 181, Glitch 169, Kilbreath 169, J. Allen 178, Gardner 183, Ferver 173, E. Crawford 184, Thomas 176, Stark 166, Pattison 113.

East Palestine: L. Lipp 177, M. Lipp 179, M. Wilson 168, Lewis 179, Madden 175, Mackey 173, Schreckengost 180, Fee 169, Corey 173, Candel 164, Gilmore 178.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Bear season opens Monday and already several hunters have departed in search of bruin. Most of them will go to the vicinity of Minister Creek, Forest county. Some of those who have hied to the deep woods are Jimmie Cypher, president of the Lawrence County Sportsmen's Association; Bert Rick, Bill Hauck and Al Botham. Other hunters fared forth to Marionville and Pit Hole vicinities today in quest of birds. So far this season rabbits have been plentiful, likewise squirrel.

There is one football coach who is not interested in a Rose Bowl game. He is Wallace Wade, of Duke. His team has yet to lose in the Rose Bowl.

Gonzaga lost yesterday to Texas Tech at Lubbock, Tex., and today Tech stands with a 7-0 win and an untied, undefeated record for the season.

ST. MARYS WIN

The St. Marys football team led by Doyle, Micaletti, Confer and Cournan topped the Ray street Midgets by a score of 24 to 0 on Friday morning. Micaletti ran 45 yards for one of the Saints touchdowns.

Another annoying thing about the situation in Europe is that the side we dislike is so often in the right.

Bessemer Defeats Lowellville 34-6

Cement City Team Still Undefeated; Zornich, Caldararo, Kennedy Visit Paydirt

LARGE CROWD SEES FAST GAME FRIDAY

Bessemer high's paean of victory resounded far off as the red and black clad eleven decisively whipped a hard fighting Lowellville, O., team Friday afternoon at Bessemer before one of the biggest galleries of the season. The final score, 34-6.

The undefeated Cement City steamroller, which hasn't dropped a gridiron tussle in 20 battles, came back strong in the second period after being held on the 1-yard line in the initial canto. Hribar paved the way for victory when he blocked a punt deep in Lowellville territory. Bessemer took the oval on their foes' 9. The Ohioans dug their cleats into the dirt and yielded a mere eight yards. Donadeo then booted to the 40. Pelto racing to the Lowellville 30. Zornich, who replaced Pelto, swept around right end to the 9. DeArment and Kennedy each picked up a yard as the first period whistle sounded.

Bessemer Scores.

On the opening play of the second frame, Kennedy scooted around left end for a touchdown. Shoup converted. In less time than you can say Jack Robinson, the Capezutti protegee lugged the ball into paydirt for the second time. Lowellville found the going rough and elected to punt, following the kick-off. With the Bessemer ends rushing like madmen, Donadeo barely got off the boot which traveled to his own 24. Zornich plowed through tackle to the 13. Shoup bucked for two more and Kennedy placed the ball on the 7 with a wide left end sweep. Shoup knifed through center to the 5. On two successive end runs, Zornich took the ball over the last chalk mark from the 3. Shoup again split the uprights. The Ohioans chalked up a first down after the kick-off and was headed for a touchdown until the Bessemer front trench tightened up, forcing the visitors to boot. Donadeo lifting a punt to mid-field. Pelto, who was injected into the game again, trotted to the Lowellville 24. DeArment found a hole at tackle and moved to the 14. A 15-yard penalty, for holding, placed the oval on Lowellville's 29. DeArment, on the next play, stepped back to the 45 and heaved a pass into the waiting arms of Caldararo, right end, who was stationed in the end zone. Shoup again booted the ball between the "H". Shoup's pass to Caldararo, good for 29 yards, resulted in Bessemer's fourth tally shortly after. Shoup missed the placement.

During most of the third and fourth periods, Bessemer's bench was emptied. Later in the last period Donadeo broke loose and raced 40 yards for Lowell's lone tally. Craeraft's bad boot gave the Ohioans the ball on Bessemer's 40. Capezutti sent in his first team and it wasn't long until Bessemer had annexed another score. From midfield, Kennedy fought his way to the Lowellville 25. Shoup and Zornich combined their efforts and brought the oval to the 13. Kennedy dashed around left end for Bessemer's final touchdown. Shoup converted, giving Bessemer a 34-6 lead.

Bessemer's gridiron ammunition was too much for their neighbors. Zornich, Shoup and Kennedy shared honors in the backfield with P. and A. Drahuschak playing a stellar brand of ball on the line. Hribar and Caldararo were also outstanding. For Lowellville, Donadeo was the mainstay. The shifty back broke away for several substantial gains. On the line, Niggle and Galey were impressive. In the second period, Iudiciani, Lowellville lineman, suffered a possible broken left hand.

Bessemer's biggest task of the season comes next Saturday when the Cement City lads play Ellwood City high at Ellwood City. Bessemer has won eight straight victories and hasn't dropped a decision since 1936.

To Harry Glasgow:

In re partition of real estate of Edward T. Roberts, deceased, in Orphans' Court of Lawrence County, Pa., No. 2 Dec. Term, 1935, O. C. P.

Notice is hereby given that Joseph L. Pitzer and Bertha L. Pitzer, his wife, have presented a petition at above number and term for partition of real estate of Edward T. Roberts, deceased which real estate is an undivided one half interest in lands in Hickory Township, Lawrence County, Pa. and that on October 24, 1938, the Court awarded a citation returnable first Monday of December, 1938, directed to Frank E. Roberts, Willis H. Pitzer, Harry Glasgow, Muriel Hayden, Phyllis C. Badger, Clara K. Cartwright, Marie Jean Forrest and Blanche G. Two Are Fined $10 For Encounter

Bradd Cambelle and Wessley Banks each paid $10 in police court today, the former for fighting, the latter for disorderly conduct.

An auto driven by Cambelle in which Banks was an occupent had an accident with the auto operated by K. C. Rupp, in East Washington street at 6:30 p. m. Friday.

An argument ensued. Rupp said to Cambelle that the latter had hooked his fender to which Cambelle allegedly replied he would "hook one on Rupp's jaw" and reportedly did so.

Just then Patrolman Thompson hooked Cambelle and started him to jail. Banks reportedly became disorderly at police headquarters and asked to be incarcerated with his friend. Banks was accommodated.

Acting Mayor James L. Flick levied a fine of $10 upon each today in police court.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL.

At a meeting of a few men the other evening . . . men who are really interested in the progress of New Castle . . . the question and answer idea came up . . . it was decided that a certain person now in New Castle and running around like his head was cut off had better watch his step . . . they decided that New Castle would be much better off if this certain person was taken for a ride and told never to darken our door step again . . . and upon thinking things over this group decided that we had several such people . . . all interested in different phases of our life . . . although this columnist promised to say very little until another time . . . it seems that something should be done to help New Castle.

The "Townsmen", that group of young men who are more alive than another group in town . . . are planning to hold another of their famous dances one week from tomorrow . . . these dances, as all know who attend, are the high lights of the winter season . . . talk to your Townsmen Member or call "Dan" Treloar.

Stock Market Is Advancing

Heavy Industries Continue To Lead Upswing In Day's Trading

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The stock market resumed its advance today, as traders returned from their Armistice Day holiday. Gains ran to more than a point, and trading was fairly active for a Saturday.

Heavy industries continued to lead the upswing, with steels particularly strong despite the $7 a ton reduction in tin plate prices. Most of the leading shares, and a number of representative issues in other groups, climbed into new high ground for the year.

Best prices in most instances were realized at the start, but the market resisted later profit-taking in good style and final quotations were not far from the day's tops.

Bethlehem was a feature, opening 2¼ points higher on a sale of 3,500 shares at 77. Republic jumped 1⅞ on a block of 4,500 shares, and U. S. Steel 1⅝ on an initial sale of 2,500 shares. All were at new peaks, and their gains were maintained to the finish.

Other representative issues to advance a point or more included Du-Pont, U. S. Gypsum, Phillip Morris, International Harvester, Case, Douglas Aircraft, Allied Chemical and American Telephone. In some cases these gains were reduced slightly by the final bell.

There were a few laggards scattered through the list. North American, U. S. Rubber, Union Carbide, General Foods and U. S. Smelting were in this classification.

Will Have Roles In Senior Play

Three-Act Comedy To Be Staged By Members Of January Class

Idylline Wimer Delmar Probst

Two members of the cast of the class play of the January graduates at the Senior high school are Idylline Wimer and Delmar Probst. The title of the three-act comedy chosen for this first important event of the mid-year commencement season, "Don't Ever Grow Up," defines the general setting as that of a comedy of youth.

Idylline Wimer interprets the part of Mrs. Meadows, who is the ideal mother for a son and daughter of high school age. Her personality tests high for love and sympathy, not so high for household efficiency. "Sis" is one of the active citizens of the big school. She is a member of the Girl Reserves, the Good Citizenship club and in her tenth year, she was her home room chairman. Recently she participated in the production of the school play, "320 College Avenue." Miss Wimer is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl R. Wimer, of Highland avenue.

Delmar Probst plays opposite Idylline Wimer as Mr. Meadows. Mr. Meadows is a successful business man who wisely surrenders his ideas of managing adults, to his wife's intuitions as to family management. Delmar is a familiar figure at the senior high school. He is a member of the Good Citizenship club also and has been chairman for his home room. He entered the dramatics class as soon as school ruling permitted it and has been one of the most interested members of that that enthusiastic group. He played the part of the Doctor very successfully in the recent school play. Delmar is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Probst, of Fairmont avenue.

BERLIN, Nov. 12.—With most sources of food and other supplies closed to them, Jews throughout Germany today faced a plight that is constantly growing more serious.

Many restaurants and shops where they ordinarily bought are irreparably smashed. Other outlets probably will refuse to serve them, owing to new decrees which are making it necessary for the Jews to live and trade among themselves.

Many were reported without food, but rich Jews are supporting the poor, and this intra-communal assistance is creating the "ghettoization" desired by the Nazis.

Mexico Agrees Upon Payments

By ARTHUR CONSTANTINE
International News Service Staff Correspondent

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 12.—President Lazaro Cardenas today agreed that Mexico would pay one million dollars yearly on United States claims growing out of expropriation of American-owned agricultural lands.

Payments must start within six months.

The president also promised to suspend expropriations of additional American-owned lands pending adjustment of present cases.

Settlement of the controversy came with an exchange of notes this week between Washington and Mexico City after the two governments had wrangled all summer and autumn.

The claims under discussion were valued at approximately $10,000,000.

Operation Fails To Save Life Of Little Indian Boy

Hundreds Of Navajos Sit On Ground Outside Hospital Awaiting Operation Result

(International News Service)

FORT DEFIANCE, Ariz., Nov. 12.—Despite speedy arrival of special instruments from Philadelphia, Lloyd Junc, three-year-old Navajo Indian boy, was dead here today from the effects of swallowing a Pinon nut.

He died shortly after an emergency operation was performed with the surgical instruments flown here from the eastern city. The operation was performed by Dr. Paul Vietzke, Indian service surgeon, who removed the nut from the boy's lung. Pneumonia set in, however, and caused death.

Hundreds of blanketed Navajos sat on the ground outside the hospital, waiting the outcome of the operation, but when it was learned the boy had died, they showed no emotion. They talked quietly among themselves and one by one left the grounds. Navajos are afraid of dead persons, and while hope remained that the boy would be saved, they remained clustered around the hospital. When they learned he was dead, they vanished as silently as they came.

U. S. Silent On New Outbursts Over In Germany

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—The American government today remained silent on the new outburst of Jewish persecutions in Germany which came in the wake of the assassination of an attache of the German embassy in Paris by a Polish Jew.

Inquiries at the White House were all referred to the state department. Secretary of State Hull, however, declined to comment other than to say that no instances of infringement on the rights of American citizens or destruction of their property, have come to the attention of this government.

It was pointed out that American authorities on the spot are in close touch with the situation with a view to protecting American citizens and their property and that if there are any infringements, prompt action will be taken.

Y.M.C.A. Promotions Are Announced; Able Staff Guides Association Program

The job of running New Castle's progressive Young Men's Christian Association, hub of many community as well as association affairs, is no small one—for it takes trained, experienced and understanding leaders to supervise the broad program which the "Y" conducts.

General Secretary Robert L. Meermans, who came here from a New Jersey "Y" post in 1918—20 years ago—today was photographed with his three able staff members at one of their periodical "staff conferences."

Meermans today officially announced new titles for the three:

Henry T. Mac Nicholas former activities director becomes assistant general secretary.

William Winter, physical department aid for some time, becomes physical director.

John D. Thompson, boys' department aide for some time, becomes boys' work director.

The three young men, reared in New Castle and active in earlier days in classes of the "Y" take their new titles today.

Briefly, here's a word picture of the four-man staff now directing the association:

General Secretary Meermans came here to be physical director in 1918 from the physical director's post of the "Y" at Plainfield, N. J. He held that position for two years succeeding George R. Borden as general secretary when the latter left for the west. It was in Cleveland in 1912 that Meermans entered "Y" service under the late Dr. W. H. Kinnicutt, who was medical director of that city's Central Y. M. C. A.

Assistant General Secretary MacNicholas, now generally responsible for all club, physical, social and religious programs of the association was in the local boys' department as a member at the age of nine. In 1927 he was named full-time assistant to Walter Kirker, then the physical director, and two years later took Kirker's place when the latter went to Harrisburg. In 1935 he became activities director and inaugurated a new plan of administration in the physical department.

Physical Director William Winter, once part-time and later full-time assistant to the physical director, now becomes head of the physical education program. Under MacNicholas' general supervision, he will direct the department. At present he studies three mornings a week at Geneva College.

Boys' Work Director Thompson, newest staff member will administer that department. He joined the staff in 1936 and proved himself a capable, industrious department manager. A friend of all boys, he is greatly admired and respected by by them. He contacts, directly and indirectly, nearly a thousand of them every week in department affairs.

The local staff, operating a far-reaching program through an efficient set-up of lay leaders is recognized today as the type of staff usually found directing Y. M. C. A. programs in much larger cities.

On Court House Hill

Prothonotary John A. Edgar, and William A. Eakin, chief clerk to the county commissioners, were the only officials to put in an appearance at the court house on Friday. Eakin prepared the papers and Edgar swore in the tellers appointed to count the vote cast at Tuesday's election. They a.. Darley Vandivort, Attorney Edward M. Rea, Bessie Pitzer and W. J. Durant.

The county commissioners are trying to get a WPA project through for re-modeling the Boyles homestead, recently purchased at public sale. The house will need considerable in the way of improvements. It will have to be wired for electricity, as there has been none up to the present time. There will also have to be different arrangement of some of the rooms. The heating system will have to be overhauled. In this connection it is possible that heat will be brought from the present court house plant. The building will also be painted, but this may not be done until spring. It is probable that it will be painted the same color as will be chosen for the court house.

Work was started yesterday on the erection of flood control walls at the paper mill bridge. This project is being sponsored by the county, under the direction of the county commissioners. John J. Burns is in charge. Plans for the erection of the flood walls were drawn by Civil Engineer T. A. Gilkey early last spring. They provided for cement walls. Engineers from the war department came out and refused to approve the plans, claiming that cement retaining walls would not stand up like stone. Engineer Gilkey accordingly revised the plans to provide for stone, and they were approved. The stone which are to be used will be quarried from a nearby hillside. The project will furnish work for about 75 men. The new wall will be erected east of the old cement wall which has been washed out.

The county commissioners are furnishing disinfectants for a thorough cleaning of the Lawrence school building, which is being used for a sewing project. The work will be done on Monday, under the direction of WPA workers. The building has been disinfected regularly since the project was started. It has been found that a large supply of drinking cups is needed, and it is believed that it would be cheaper for the county to put in drinking fountains. However nothing definite in that direction has been done.

There has been a drop in non-farm real estate foreclosures thus far in 1938 as compared to 1937, according to statistics received by Register and Recorder Orville Potter, from the research division of the Federal Home loan bank. In approximately 1400 communities in the twelve Federal reserve districts, the number of foreclosures in September, 1938, were 9,538, as compared to 12,177 in the similar 1937 period. Decreases are shown in all but four of the twelve districts.

A consignment of individual personal property tax return blanks for use in making out the 1939 schedules has been received at the county commissioners office. These are the blanks on which individuals must list their holdings of personal property, such as mortgages, notes, bonds, articles of agreement, stocks, and annuities, where the latter yield over two hundred dollars annually. In the case of stocks they must be listed at their market value whether they bear interest or not, except in the cases of Pennsylvania corporations. The county tax on personal property is four mills. There has also been added during the present administration a tax of four mills to the state, making a total of eight mills.

County Controller Frank Hill is making out a list of receipts and disbursements from the general and poor funds during the past month and will have it ready in a few days.

Dr. Hudnut Makes Address At College

Bellevue Minister Is Armistice Day Speaker At Westminster College

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 12.—"One of the biggest jobs for college graduates today is to debunk militarism, and take the propaganda out of war," declared Dr. Herbert Hudnut of the Bellevue Presbyterian church, Friday, in an Armistice day program to students of Westminster college.

Dr. Hudnut scoffed at armament-advocators for their plea of "preparing for peace by preparting for war"; and advocated non-cooperation with war and war-preparation as the only Christian attitude towards war.

"Some nation someday will startle the world by daring to face antagonistic nations with a purely non-violence policy," Dr. Hudnut concluded. "Invasion might follow, but a new world will dawn because of the courageousness of the nation that will dare to do what no other nation in world history has achieved."

On the Armistice day program, in addition to Dr. Hudnut, were Fred Brinkley, Brookline, playing taps; Robert Kevan, Bellevue, vocal and accordian solo; and Ruth Sewall, New Wilmington, at the organ. Presiding at the ceremonies was student council president, Robert Wallace, E. Liverpool, Ohio. Benediction was offered by Floyd Ewalt, Franklin.

Red Cross Plane To Fly Over City

Finley Wilson Will Pilot Ship Over District At Noon Monday

One of the features of the 1939 Roll Call of the American Red Cross will be the appearance of the Red Cross plane over the city at noon Monday, November 14.

This plane will be piloted by Finley Wilson, instructor in flying at the New Castle Air Port. Mr. Wilson is giving freely of his time and the use of his plane to make this flight and it is hoped that everyone will be on the lookout for the "Plane of Mercy."

Airplanes have played a very important part in a great many of the emergencies that the Red Cross has been called upon to function in. During the 1937 disaster in the Ohio-Mississippi Valley region many a community cut off by high water was given medical attention as well as food and clothing by airplane.

Immunity — power to resist and overcome infection.

The human body may have one of two kinds of immunity.

It may be natural or acquired immunity.

Natural immunity is born in an individual.

Acquired immunity comes through processes in the body.

Certain elements develop to make one immune to disease.

Some families seem to be immune to certain diseases.

Entire races are immune to other diseases.

Natural immunity is a great blessing.

Not having it — acquired immunity is the next best.

Children readily get diphtheria, measles, whooping cough.

Vaccination or immunization will give them immunity to these.

It is easy to measure the relative prosperity of a free land. The more hard-up it is, the sillier laws it makes.
